Eulogies: Sandi Smith and Geri Hamby: Two dear Missouri fiber friends recently passed away. Sandi Smith, a fiber artist extraordinaire, is known nationally for her paper making, woven tapestry transparencies, and other fiber creations. She just turned 60, had fought and survived cancer a number of times, and suffered numerous strokes over the past 40 years. May she be resting in peace. She was my first mentor in 1979 for spinning and natural dyeing and she enthusiastically encouraged me and my endeavors throughout the years since. I owe my interest in a life-time passion to her. I will miss her friendship.

Geri Hamby was a fiber enthusiast and shop owner with Woolridge Farm for many years in the Jamesport, MO area. She was instrumental in sparking fiber interests in young people as well as adults.
